AUSTIN, Texas — Governor Greg Abbott appointed Tim Timmerman and reappointed Bobby Patton to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission on Thursday.

Timmerman joins the Commission for the first time, while Patton has been with the Commission since Aug. 6, 2019.

Their terms expire on Feb. 1, 2031, and their appointments will be in effect at the next Commission meeting on May 21 and 22.

Who are Timmerman and Patton?

Timothy “Tim” Timmerman of Austin is the owner of Timmerman Capital LLC and multiple real estate investment and development firms. He serves as president of the Colorado River Land Trust and sits on several boards, including the Central Texas Community Foundation, Austin Area Research Organization, YMCA of Central Texas, and Texas Business Leadership Council.

Timmerman is also affiliated with Texas A&M University through the Chancellor’s Century Council and the Legacy Society. He holds a bachelor’s degree in business administration from Texas A&M University and an MBA from the University of Texas at Austin.

Bobby Patton of Fort Worth is president of Texas Capitalization Resource Group, Inc. He is a member of the State Bar of Texas and serves on the UT Development Board, UT Marine Science Institute, UT Liberal Arts Advisory Council and the board of the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo.

Patton is a former chairman of the PGA Tournament Committee for Charles Schwab. He earned a bachelor’s degree in business administration from the University of Texas at Austin, a Juris Doctor from St. Mary’s Law School and a Master of Laws from SMU’s Dedman School of Law.

The commission manages and conserves the natural and cultural resources of Texas and provides hunting, fishing and outdoor recreation opportunities for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations.

These appointments are subject to Senate confirmation.
