Educational Results Partnership AND Texas Business Leadership Council Announce List of 2024 Texas Honor Roll schools and districts

The annual ERP Honor Roll program recognized 762 of Texas' highest performing schools and 63 school districts.

SACRAMENTO, CA – Educational Results Partnership \(ERP\), a non-profit organization that applies data science to accelerate student success, has released the 2024 Honor Roll list of Texas' top performing schools, in partnership with state business leaders and the Texas Business Leadership Council. This is the tenth year that ERP has completed the Honor Roll, which recognizes top public schools, districts and charter schools that have outperformed their peers in closing achievement gaps, particularly among higher-poverty and historically disadvantaged student populations.

This year 762 schools and 63 school districts in Texas made the Honor Roll. This is approximately 12 percent of eligible schools and 9 percent of eligible school districts in the state. The full list of Honor Roll schools is now posted at edresults.org/honor-roll.

“The Honor Roll recognizes high-performing schools where students are learning the fundamental skills employers demand,” said Dan Kinney, ERP’s Board Chair. “ERP is proud to recognize these schools, and we want to learn about their best practices for teaching the fundamental skills of reading, writing and math.”

The program is part of a national effort to engage business leaders in recognizing successful schools and educational systems and promoting best practices that improve student outcomes. Honor Roll schools are recognized for demonstrating consistently higher levels of student achievement comprehensively across all student populations, improvement in academic achievement over time, and a reduction in achievement gaps among historically disadvantaged student populations. The program is presented in collaboration with the Campaign for Business and Education Excellence and the Texas Business Leadership Council \(TBLC\).

“Texas Business Leadership Council is proud to partner with ERP to recognize high performing schools in our state that are preparing students with the fundamental skills needed to be successful in a globally competitive workforce,” said Justin Yancy, TBLC President.

The analysis was conducted using data made publicly available by the Texas Education Agency for the State of Texas Assessments of Academic Readiness (STAAR) for the years 2022, 2023, and 2024. To learn more about the Texas Honor Roll, view the methodology.

“The Honor Roll is the only school recognition program based solely on objective student achievement data,” said ERP’s Chief Executive Officer James Lanich, Ph.D. “The goal of the Honor Roll program is to use data to find and highlight successful schools and encourage collaboration among educators on best practices for raising student achievement. ERP is all about improving educational outcomes and promoting career readiness for all students, regardless of family income, background, or ZIP code,” said Lanich. “By shining a light on successful systems and practices, we hope to spark dialogue amongst educators to replicate best practices throughout the state.”

About Educational Results Partnership

Educational Results Partnership (ERP) is a nonprofit organization that applies data science and predictive analytics to identify successful public education systems, practices, programs, and policies that are delivering the best results for students. ERP has managed the nation’s largest database on student achievement from kindergarten into the labor market. In partnership with educators and employers, ERP charts the paths that lead to academic success and living-wage jobs. ERP’s goal is to ensure more students are equipped to enter the workforce with the skills today’s global economy demands. For more information visit: edresults.org
